MILITARY ARM IN OKLAHOMA GRASPS FOR NEW BOUNDS

Muskogee May Feel Heel of Martial Law if Klan Officials Stay.

TULSA UNDER GRIP
Censorship for Newspapers of State Looms Up in Ultimatum.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 14.—An extension of military operations throughout Oklahoma today following Gov. J. C. Walton's ultimatum to the Ku Klux Klan Thursday was in prospect today.

Muskogee faces martial law unless W. R. Sampson resigns as exalted cyclops of the Muskogee Klan, together with his secretary. The governor's ultimatum expires at 6 o'clock tonight. Sampson announced that neither he nor his secretary would need the chief executive's demands.

A further tightening of military control in Tulsa county is imminent unless Bob Sanford, sheriff, and H. W. Kiskaddon, police commissioner, and three members of the county jury commission tender their resignations within the next three days. The peace parley between the governor and the delegation of Tulsa business men has broken off. Blame for martial law in Tulsa county was said to have been laid at the door of the Ku Klux Klan by H. O. McClure, president of the Tulsa chamber of commerce, who advised the invisible empire to see that the governor's terms were met.

"Next in line for martial law is Oklahoma county, including the capital, according to Gov. Walton. A military censorship over every newspaper in the state will be invoked if they continue to 'incite riot' or print 'matter tending to cause trouble,' the governor announced.

Throughout the state investigators are running down flogging cases and martial law will be declared at any place where there is apparent disposition on the part of local authorities to protect floggers it was said by the governor.

Dr. J. A. Walker, alleged exalted cyclops of the Shawnee Klan, and C. M. Reber, former major in the Oklahoma National guard, are under $5,000 bonds on charges of riot. Dr. Walker and Reber are charged with having planned the flogging of four men.

TULSA, Sept. 14.—No military censor had appeared in the office of the Tulsa Tribune at 8:45 o'clock this morning, despite Gov. Walton's announcement in Muskogee last night that he had ordered one on duty. At the same time the governor threatened to place censors in the offices of the Daily Oklahoman at Oklahoma City and the Phoenix at Muskogee.

Owners of the Tribune announced today that an injunction would be sought immediately from the United States court to prevent the governor from interfering in any way with the publication of the paper.

The owners of the Tribune deny that the newspaper has "agitated against the state investigation" of whippers in Tulsa county as charged by the governor. The Tribune has begun the publication of the "Story of Walton" along with Aldrich Blake's "Story of Tulsa." The "Story of Walton" is a review of the official acts of Governor Walton.

The first edition of the Tulsa Tribune went to press without military censorship, but it was announced at Gen. Markham's headquarters that a censor would be on duty later in the day.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Brooding over the death of his wife and two children in the Japanese earthquake, Tokumitsu Inouye, head auditor for Mitzer & Co., Japanese importers and exporters, leaped to his death from the fifteenth floor of a lower Broadway office building today while the rush hour crowds filled the street.

For 10 days Inouye had been tireless in his efforts to learn the fate of his wife and children. A three-word message arrived Wednesday and ended his uncertainty.

MUCH INTEREST IN COUNTY FAIR

Judging in All Departments Now Complete; Races Claim Records.

With only one day remaining of the annual Pontotoc County Free fair, fair officials were preparing to make Saturday a day of festivities and a fitting close for one of the most successful events ever held in the county.

Awards in every department had been named today, judging in livestock, agriculture and fine arts departments having been completed yesterday and today. Livestock and agriculture entries were judged yesterday and winners picked in every class. Winners of fine arts exhibits were named yesterday and today.

While premium lists for winners in various departments had not been completed today, fair officials announced that the list of awards and the winners would be ready for publication in the Sunday edition of the News.

The races at the fair demanded the peak of attention yesterday with a record crowd in attendance. Names of winners in the various handicaps were not available today and will also be ready for publication Sunday.

A fatal accident was narrowly averted yesterday when a racing car driven by Bob Wasson with Parker Floyd as his mechanic swerved from the course and landed fifteen feet off the track without injuries to either of the men in the car.

The race program today, which will include every thing capable of showing speed from racing cars to mules was expected to draw a large crowd. Gate receipts at an early hour this afternoon indicate that today's races would entertain a record attendance.

Following the races Thursday afternoon Battery F of the Ada national guard, put on a drill and the maneuvers with the horses and guns was highly interesting to the crowd being something new to most of the spectators. During the drill the guns fired a few rounds.

Another drill will be put on Saturday afternoon following the races. Admission to the drill is free.

An exhibit that has attracted much attention is a spread that at one time belonged to Napoleon. According to the notation made on it this masterpiece of needle work was made in 1791 by an ancestor of E. E. Ueltschey, 526 East 12th, Ada. (Continued on Page Three)

CHILDRESS SEES SHOOTING SPREE

Woman Shoots Another While Fair Visitors Are Witnesses.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Sept. 14.—When Mrs. Albert Whiteside shot Mrs. S. A. Maxwell yesterday evening, all Childress, practically an eye witness, held its breath. Today this little town in the Panhandle near the Oklahoma border was recovering its composure somewhat but tensely awaiting developments.

The affair is unexplained, police reported today.

Mrs. Whiteside, wife of a Hollis, Oklahoma, ranchman, has a daughter two years old and a son seven. Mrs. Maxwell is a widow and mother of two girls 15 and 17 years old. Her daughters were at her side when she fell.

Between 500 and 600 persons were massed in the grand stand on the Childress fair ground. They saw Mrs. Maxwell fall from four pistol wounds. Today physicians reported her recovery is doubtful.

They saw Sheriff Jim Crane standing not more than 10 feet from Mrs. Whiteside and saw Mrs. Whiteside calmly walk over to the sheriff and surrender herself into his custody.

HEAVY CROP LOSS IS REPORTED IN NORTH

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Reports of damage to crops by a killing frost within the last few days in the Northwest today were reckoned at several thousand dollars. Farmers and gardeners throughout the Middle West over which the low temperature extended, were making efforts to get their crops within barns and shelters.

Wisconsin tobacco was hardest hit, two thirds of the crops in the fields being damaged. Corn escaped with slight injury. Ice half an inch thick was reported in two Wisconsin counties. There was snow yesterday in Illinois.

Throughout the east and West Central sections low temperatures prevailed which brought lighted fires and heavy blankets. The mercury was close to the 30 and 40 mark in the Northwest and 50 was registered at points in Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

TWO GLADIATORS READY FOR BOUT IN RING TONIGHT

Dempsey and Firpo Report Ready for Struggle to Decide World Championship.

EXPECT RECORD CROWD

Over Million Dollars Already in Hands of Promoters of Battle.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Two gladiators of the New World waked in New York this morning ready for the battle which is to decide whether the fistie championship of the earth shall remain in North America or cross the equator to become the property of the Argentine Republic.

These warriors, Jack Dempsey of the United States, present holder of the heavy weight championship, and Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine, scowling chieftain of South American sluggers, will step into the brilliantly lighted fight arena at the Polo grounds at 9:30 New York daylight time or 7:30 central standard time. They will be watched by a crowd of more than 90,000 persons, some of whom have come all the way from Buenos Aires to see the combat. More than $1,000,000 will have been collected by Manager Tex Rickard. One-half of this amount will go to the fighters, 37 1/2 percent to Dempsey and the remaining 12 1/2 to Firpo. The balance goes to Mr. Rickard. Some of the spectators have paid $27.50 for seats, others will pay $3.30 when the gates open at 4:30 o'clock, while others have paid $150 to speculators.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—When Jack Dempsey defends his heavy weight title against Luis Angel Firpo tonight at the Polo grounds he will weigh more than at any time in his championship career. He scaled 192 pounds this afternoon when weighed in at the state athletic commission. His challenger had not put in an appearance when the title holder stepped off the scales.

MILITARY TAKES REINS IN SPAIN

Cabinet Members Resign; King Asks New Cabinet be Formed.

MADRID, Sept. 14.—The Spanish cabinet resigned this morning. King Alfonso has returned to the capital.

A prominent newspaper says it understands that Primo Riviere, captain general at Barcelona, the leader of the military movement against the government, will preside over a directory composed of competent officials who will assume charge of the various ministries. In the meantime civilians of proved capacity who show independence in politics, will be sought to form a cabinet to replace the directorate.

MADRID, Sept. 14.—King Alfonso this afternoon asked Captain General Primo Riviere, leader of the military movement against the Alhucema cabinet to form a government.

It was announced by Capt. Gen. Munoz Cobo of Madrid, who is charged with maintaining the public order, that a proclamation of martial law is necessary.

BARCELONA, Sept. 14.—Capt. Gen. Primo Riviere, whom King Alfonso has charged with forming a new government, declared this afternoon that the king, with whom he conversed by telephone, had accepted the directorate proposed by the military chiefs.

The directorate is to be headed by Primo Riviere who also announced that his majesty had approved the captain general's proposal extending martial law to the whole of Spain.

Primo Riviere will leave Barcelona for Madrid tonight.

By 1933, if no new construction is undertaken the French fleet will be reduced to three battleships, three cruisers and two submarines.

ALLEGED SLAYER WITH LIFE IN BALANCE DEPENDS ON 1923 PORTIA TO SAVE HIM

Miss Anna B. Hogan, attorney.

(By Central Press)

HACKENSACK, N. J., Sept. 15.—A slender wisp of a girl stands between Ezal Robertson and death—Robertson is in the Bergen county jail here charged with murder.

Anna B. Hogan—the girl—is in her law office in Jersey City. And death—the death of her client—also leans at her.

But she answers the leer with a smile as she prepares the defense which she is confident will free her client when the case comes to trial.

The fresh bloom of twenty-five summers is in her cheek in striking contrast to the musty old volumes which she thumbs diligently in her preparations to rout the state's attorneys.

It is probably the first time in the history of the state that a woman attorney—and one so young—has stepped into the limelight as defense counsel in a murder trial. But that fact doesn't worry Miss Hogan.

She will be pitted against veterans of the bar this girl who though she has won numerous cases has never before borne upon her shoulders the responsibilities of defending a man on trial for his life.

She is confident of the outcome.

So is Robertson.

Time alone will tell if this modern Portia will be as successful as Shakespeare's famous heroine.

FIND PARTS OF BODY OF WOMAN

Search Under Way to Clear Mystery of Finding of Dismembered Body.

(By the Associated Press)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 14.—Belief that the dismembered body of a woman found in the Merrimac river at Kingsboro in two suit cases two weeks ago had been identified today, intensified the search for Dr. William M. Fobb, who had offices in the Back Bay section of Boston.

District Attorney Redding said he thought the woman was Mrs. George Walshendorf, of East Bridgeport, who has been missing since August 28. She was the mother of four children the eldest being 20 and the youngest 12 years old. Information given by members of the Walshendorf family led the authorities to seek Dr. Robb.

One of the suit cases found in the river contained a torso and the other the legs of the same body. The head had not been found.

Durant Scheduled For Diamond Battle With Ada Amateurs

Probably the keenest rivalry of the baseball season will be exposed Sunday when the Ada Amateurs enter a diamond struggle with the Durant Independents here at the new baseball park.

Durant has long been considered a worthy rival in practically any line of sport, whether kid football game, a college gridiron battle or more worthy forms of sport.

The Durant team is rated as one of the best in this section of the state, having defeated a number of strong contenders in this state and Texas.

Manager A. O. Green of the local club is making thorough preparation for the invasion of the local diamond.

An English swimmer recently towed a boat containing seven people for a mile.

PROBE HALTS ON JUROR'S ILLNESS

Keltner Reported Ill; Special Venire Called to Name Man for Vacancy.

The secret probe of the Pontotoc county grand jury is again under way after a delay had been necessitated by the illness of A. T. Keltner, local man and one of the selected twelve to conduct the investigation of reported conditions in the county.

While the selection of a juror to fill the vacancy brought about through the illness of Keltner had not been made from a special venire of five names, County Attorney J. W. Dean was preparing to bring all the witnesses appearing before the jury yesterday before the body again for a complete review of the testimony rendered.

The grand jury recessed this morning when it was announced that Keltner's illness would prevent his serving. The body will swing into session again after the naming of a juror for the vacancy.

A special venire was obtained in all haste and from the following list of names will be selected a juror to help continue the probe: J. F. Madden and F. L. Hickey of Ada; D. E. Johnson and T. J. Childers of Roff and H. H. Elkins of Stonewall.

While a delay has been caused by the necessity of starting anew on the probe, approximately other witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before the jury. Most of the witnesses on the new list live in the vicinity of Ada.

EARTHQUAKE LOSS FOR JAPAN FIVE BILLION

TOKIO, Sept. 14.—It is estimated that the cost of the reconstruction work in Tokio and Yokohama as a result of the earthquake and fire will approximate 10 billion yen or $5,000,000,000.

A nation wide syndicate has been organized to assist the government in rebuilding the devastated area and the empire is asked to devote all surplus funds for this purpose.

SULLIVAN SLAIN AT ALLEN; MACK LEE HELD HERE

Old Feud Said to Have Been Cause of Slaying at Allen.

SHOT THREE TIMES

Lee Surrenders to Gilmore at Allen and Brought to Jail Here.

Allen was again the scene of gunplay at 1 o'clock this afternoon when E. W. Sullivan, age 45, was shot to death on a downtown street. Mack Lee, well known in this county, surrendered to county authorities in connection with the slaying.

Deputy W. W. Walker and Assistant County Attorney George Burris left for Allen at 2 o'clock this afternoon to conduct an investigation of the affair.

Lee was brought to the county jail this afternoon by Special Deputy R. C. Gilmore, after Lee had called the officer and made known his desire to surrender and face charges that might be brought against him.

Sullivan died almost instantly after the three shots that entered his body took effect, according to reports from officials at Allen. He ran about ten steps after the bullets had found a target in his body and fell to the ground. He made no statement concerning the affair.

Only Few Witnesses

Allen officers stated that only a few witnesses were near at hand at the time of the shooting and that none had heard any rumblings of an argument between the two men prior to the shooting.

Allen officers stated that Sullivan was unarmed.

Of the three bullets that took effect in the body of Sullivan, one entered the left shoulder, another entered the stomach above the waist line and went upward through the shoulder and the last through the left arm and into the stomach.

Allen officials state that a feud had existed between the two men dating back to the days of the World war when differences between the men are alleged to have begun.

Local officers were notified of the shooting here about 1 o'clock and word was received at that time that Lee had surrendered to Gilmore and was being brought to Ada.

No charges have been filed against Lee at the present time.

An inquest will be taken over the body of Sullivan at Allen by Allen authorities, it was stated.

HOLD LAD CHARGED IN DEATH OF SCHOOL GIRL

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 14.—Clark Goffield, 17 years old was placed in the county jail here early today following the finding late yesterday of the mutilated body of Irene Hitzfelder, 10-year-old daughter of a prominent ranchman at Spring Branch. Goffield is said to have made a statement to authorities detailing the crime. A Comal county grand jury has been summoned to investigate the case.

The crime was committed at a lonely spot about two miles from the Spring Branch school house. The body was discovered in a cump of bushes after school mates of the girl had become alarmed at her failure to appear and had instituted a search.

According to officers the body was badly mutilated. The head of the girl had been literally shattered with stone.

Feeling is running high in Spring Branch and it was for that reason that Goffield was brought here.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WHY NOT?—O ye simple, understand wisdom: and, ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart.—Prov. 8:5.

EUROPE NOT SO BAD OFF.

A writer in a current magazine who has made a study of European conditions first hand asserts that Europe is not as bad off as some would have us believe. According to this writer it is the difference between theory and actualities. In theory Europe may be prostrate financially, but in fact the people who have been at work are getting along pretty well and business has gained steadily in volume, hence he concludes that those countries with the nerve and backbone to get down to work will recover from the effects of the war much more rapidly than might be supposed.

As an example of the divergence between theory and fact he cites the case of Germany. Theoretically the steady fall in the value of German currency would have long ago brought the nation to bankruptcy, whereas, more people than ever before are engaged in productive work and this in the end is what creates wealth. This writer sums it up by maintaining that as long as the individual citizens of a nation are getting along well that nation is not on the verge of ruin.

The truth is that some of the European nations sat down and waited for the United States to come along and lift them out of the mud, instead of trying to help themselves. When they found that this aid, so generously extended during the war, was not to last forever, most of them got down to work.

In this respect the Europeans might learn a few lessons from the South. This region was devastated by war, her wealth wiped out and the people left with nothing but their indomitable will to get on their feet again. This would have been speedily accomplished had not the corrupt rule of the carpet baggers intervened, but even in the face of that the South rose from its ashes and today bears little resemblance to the stricken, hungry region of 1865 or even at the time of the carpet bag vandals. The men who followed Lee for four years were real men who refused to yield to despair. They displayed the same spirit at Gettysburg and Chancellorsville, hence the rapid recovery of the South. A little more of the spirit of the South is what is needed in Europe.

CALIFORNIA SLIPS UP.

Southern California has fallen down on its publicity. It has failed to deliver the goods. Upon the same day, that scientists from all the world thronged her brown hills to analyze the sun's eclipse she produced a murky atmosphere that shut out the spectacle, and at the same time spewed a fog in which seven of the Nation's war vessels fouled on her boasted sunny strand.

We do not rejoice that this has happened to California. We would not be so mean of spirit to find pleasure in the fact that Nature, which Californians have come to regard as a well-trained servant answering to their every beck and call, should flout them upon this important occasion. But we can not refrain from pointing out that in Texas, where we have real sunshine, we had an eclipse on schedule, unmarred by a single cloud nor a bit of haze.

It was a mean trick to play on California. But cocky little man—and who is cockier than the Californian—should take the lesson to heart that Nature doesn't give a darn about his plans or his reputation.—Star-Telegram.

Press reports indicate that the German government is about to seek a settlement with France in order to regain control of the Ruhr. France has held the chief source of the fuel supply and the industrial centers of the nation and passive resistance has not been strong enough to shake the French hold. The rest of the world hopes for a speedy settlement of the row so that things may move along as they did before and the world's commerce not to be held back on account of the trouble between two nations.

Frosts are appearing in the states along the Canadian border. This is somewhat earlier than usual and is taken to indicate that the country faces a hard winter. The past two or three have been rather mild, hence the law of averages would forecast a harder stretch this year. Oklahoma may expect a frost in the near future if the cold wave keeps up its march southward. Meanwhile everything is lovely for growing crops as fall as for harvesting them.

The News has been a consistent booster for better livestock in Pontotoc county, hence is highly gratified over the display of pure-bred stuff at the county fair. With every stall filled and some in outside pens the livestock exhibit is the best ever and most of the standard breeds of cattle and hogs are there, to say nothing of sheep, horses and mules. There too, the poultry exhibit was by far the largest in size and quality ever shown at the county fair here. Five years ago such a display would be out of the question here.

The latest ground for asking a pardon by a convict is reported from a nearby state. According to the story he assures the governor that he is so much worse than the others that he fears he may corrupt their morals. He claims that he is the only one inside the walls who admits being guilty.

Extravagance and Indolence.
(Eufaula Journal.)

Much of the extravagant spending of money of which people complain is based on the tendency of people to seek the easiest way of doing things.

It is generally known, for instance, that if people would buy household stuff and personal belongings for cash, and would carry some their purchases in their own hands, two of the items in the cost of living would be avoided.

Many stores are making a success on this basis, showing that an increasing number of people are convinced of the merits of this proposition, particularly in the grocery line.

Nevertheless there is a big public demand for the credit system, and for delivery of small packages that people could easily carry home in their own hands. They keep cars and delivery men chasing around the streets, and do not always realize that this form of service is costly and must be added to the price for goods.

Also the credit habit is costly. The merchant who has credit accounts with a big number of customers must keep a sum of money equivalent to these accounts tied up and earning nothing. Many people ask for credit who could pay cash just as well. But just as they are too indolent to lug small parcels home, so they are too indolent to pay for each purchase when they make it.

In spite of the low wages prevailing in the times when our fathers and grandfathers lived, many people found it easier to save money in those days. It was not merely that there were less ways to spend money. It was partly because they planned the expenditures of money with extreme care.

But that took forethought and some mental effort. The spirit of the present times is too indolent for that. As a result, many people are failing to get the real degree of comfort and security that their earnings entitle them to.

ADA MIT KINGS ON PERRY CARD

Sparks and Cooper Slated for Prominent Role on Feature Card.

Ada fighters will be given a severe test of their mettle at Perry next Monday when they appear on a fight card offered at that place. Archie Cooper, state middleweight champion, and Claude Sparks, contender in many ring battles will have a leading part in two of the bouts on the fight card at Perry.

Cooper will be given one of the hardest races for his title in his fight with Young Reese, a product that has bloomed heartily in his career on the West Coast. Reese is considered one of the toughest fighters of his class in the Pacific coast towns and makes his fight at Perry a part of his program in seeking honors in the east.

Cooper is confident of his best showing at Perry after a series of hard workouts with his trainer, Oscar Mortimer. He is confident of showing many new angles of fighting developed under the tutelage of Mortimer.

Sparks, who made a creditable showing here Wednesday in his fight with Hamp Brown, state middleweight champion, will have another proposition on hand in his fight with Bennie Pappan at Perry on the same card Cooper has his tangle.

Sparks will also fight Mut McKee in Oklahoma City tonight before going to Perry for his fight. A. R. Dixon, manager of the two Ada fighters, accompanied them to Perry.

MARKETING ASSOCIATION HANDLE FOURTH OF CROP

(By the Associated Press)

ENID, Okla., Sept. 13.—Slightly more than one-fourth of the wheat of Oklahoma will be marketed this year through the Oklahoma Wheat Growers' Association, according to an announcement by officials of the organization.

While much of this year's wheat has been placed on the market and sold after harvest for around 75 cents a bushel, it is declared, more optimistic outlooks have characterized individual expressions from the wheat growers' association who are participating in the wheat pool. Advances in the market have taken place since the 75 cent wheat was marketed and those who have pooled their grain now feel they are in a position to take advantage of the price increase.

Estimates from headquarters of the association here place the number of acres controlled by the members at 900,000 acres, all within the state. This amounts to a little more than 25 percent of the total Oklahoma acreage, it is said.

Oklahoma wheat growers who are members of the association have the greatest percentage of acreage signed up of any of the twelve state organizations, they claim. North Dakota, with a membership of 12,000, exceeds Oklahoma in number of members, but not in percentage of acreage, it is declared.

There was a 4 percent increase in the world's wheat production this year, compared with that of last year, according to a report received by the association here from the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington. Twenty-two countries reported the 1923 wheat production at 2,415,765,000 bushels. Rye increased 4.2 percent barley 7.3 percent and Oats 4.1 percent, the world report said.

Christian Church Notes.

Theodore Roosevelt said, "Even men who are not professedly religious must, if they are frank, admit that no community permanently prospers, either morally or materially, unless the church is a vital element in the community life." That is why the First Christian church urges that you attend all the services Sunday. Our one aim is to become such a vital part of the community life that all men may know Christ as a personal friend.

Our Sunday morning services are especially adapted to the needs of the Christian in making him a better citizen and a servant of the church. Our evening services are evangelistic in nature and make an appeal to the unsaved to become a follower of Christ.

We have the promise of a special delegation with us Sunday evening. Seats will be reserved for them and the sermon will be in their honor. Come on folks and let us show this delegation that we really appreciate having them with us.

Plans for our revival are almost complete and we are expecting a great revival. Let our people plan now to lay aside all other work for this meeting.

Remember the Christian Endeavor services come and enjoy a good program and fellowship. The young Matron's Circle will meet Monday at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Byron Lasater 525 East Eighth.

Notice R. and S. Masons.

Special assembly Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This is an important meeting. Members urged to be present.

LITTLE RESPONSE GIVEN TO JAPANESE AID FUND

Mrs. Orville Snead, secretary of the local chapter of the Red Cross, reports that responses for the plea for funds to aid the Japanese have been meager. Only a few dollars have been turned in. While no general canvass was made to obtain funds, Mrs. Snead wanted this chapter to make a fair showing. The opportunity to give will be extended a few days yet, and those who want to give money to relieve the suffering will be permitted to do so.

FIRPO HAS PHYSICAL ODDS OVER DEMPSEY

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Luis Angel Firpo will possess advantages in height, weight and reach when he steps into the ring with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, in their title fight at the Polo Grounds September 14.

The Argentine giant will have close to 25 pounds margin in weight, six inches in reach and an inch and a half in height over the American title-holder. Firpo is proportionately larger than his rival by nearly every respect, physical measurements reveal, but the champion will offset these, his followers believe, by greater speed and scientific ability. Both are the same age, twenty-eight, though some records give Firpo's two years younger.

COAL PROBLEMS UP FOR PARLEY

Matters of Vital Importance to be Discussed at Mining Congress.

(By the Associated Press)
MILWAUKEE, Sept. 14.—The coal situation and its problems will be joined in discussion with those of the mining industry at the annual convention here September 24-29 of the American Mining Congress and National Exposition of Mines and Mine Equipment. The relation between employer and employee in industry will be the principal subject.

A representative of the federal coal commission will attend for the purpose of presenting the viewpoint of the commission relative to the bituminous and anthracite coal industries. The report of this commission as it affects the soft coal industry will be published September 22.

The industrial co-operation conference during the convention will be directly related to the coal industry, in which all points of view will be represented. The Industrial Co-operative Division of the Congress is now organized in 23 states. James J. Davis, secretary of labor, will speak on the essential factors in the development of a policy in obtaining permanent industrial peace in the mining industry.

In the metal mining section, three problems will be presented for discussion—that of silver producers in connection with the elimination of the protecting safeguards of the Pittman act, the question of "blue sky" legislation of a national character as it affects mining conditions in western states.

The exposition will include 150 of the latest types of mine equipment and mining machinery, which is designed to emphasize the importance of the work of the standardization division of the congress and the necessity of a greater utilization of labor saving and cost reducing equipment and machinery in the expansion of the industry.

Speakers on the various programs include J. C. Bryden, president of the National Coal Association; Major Frank D. Rash, Kentucky; M. L. Gould, Indiana; J. G. Bradley, West Virginia; and Albert J. Nason, Illinois, respectively presidents of coal associations or companies; Lawrence F. Abbott, president of the Outlook Publishing Company, who will present the point of view of the public in coal problems; and either John D. Rockefeller, Jr., or a representative representing the point of view of the large employer of labor in regard to the elements entering into the development of a real policy in relationship.

ENGLISH SPINNERS GRADE OUR COTTON

(By the Associated Press)
GREENVILLE, Tex., Sept. 14.—The cotton seed breeding station maintained near here by the federal department of agriculture will ship a list of cotton direct to English spinners as the initial step toward development of a system whereby foreign spinners can certify to American cotton producers and shippers the variety and grade of staple they desire.

Under the plan proposed, the local station will assemble a list of cotton and each bale will be marked with the variety and grade, and upon arrival at the mill the spinner will separate the cotton. Several varieties then will be started on the process of manufacturing into the finished product, a detailed record of each variety being kept until it is manufactured into various wares.

After the proper tests have been made, the spinner will certify to the local station the variety and grade of cottons best suited to their needs and wants, following which machinery will be set in motion to produce those cottons to meet the foreign demand.

Should the experiment prove a success, the opinion is expressed that the cotton industry of America will be revolutionized within the course of a few years.

FATHER OF THIRTY—Three Children is Record Claimant

BAY CITY, Mich., Sept. 14.—Father of 33 children, the oldest of whom is 67 years old and the youngest a babe of 14 months, is the claim to distinction of Charles L. Lucius, a rag picker who is a descendant of two Dutch generals, and successively a rancher, a guerrilla fighter, Indian fighter, and member of both the rebel and union armies during the civil war.

Of the 33 children who have called Lucius father, the list includes four sets of twins, one set by his present, or fourth wife, and the others by a second wife.

Lucius bears his 91 years lightly. He can do the accepted "daily dozen" exercises while the average person is making up his mind to start. With ease he can rap his knuckles on the floor without bending at the knees.

Founding Communist Party In America Explained In Report of Mine Workers

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A description purporting to show that the Communist Party of America was founded amid dramatic secrecy atop a mountain in the Catskills 28 months ago, and has mushroomed over the United States and Canada, is contained in the fifth of a series of articles made public today by the United Mine Workers of America, charging a movement to bring America under the banner of the Moscow communists.

At first, the article asserted, the party was an "underground" organization, functioning in secrecy. Today, according to the miners, it has a membership, direct and auxiliary, of 1,000,000, with interlocking directorates binding it to 45 national organizations and 200 local organizations working in the open.

Prior to May, 1921 the Communist International was represented as having become so impotent through federal prosecution and deportation of members that formation of an "underground" society was determined upon.

And so, having chosen one of the most historically primitive spots in the East as a setting, "70 Communist leaders, representing the two factions of the Communist party and the United Communist party gathered in the ancient hotel on the top of Overlook Mountain on the morning of May 15, 1921, to compose their differences and unite in a single group, to be known as the Communist Party of America," said the article.

Organized Methods Used
"This assembly was not only at the command of Lenin and Zinoviev of the Communist International, but it was accompanied with the threat that if the factional differences were not put aside and a united front presented for invading the labor unions of the United States, no more money would be forthcoming from Moscow for financing the revolutionary movement in this country. Up to that time Moscow had contributed money to both of these factions, but had decided that their hostility to each other was neutralizing the results of their work."

A personal emissary of Lenin and Zinoviev was alleged to have dominated the session. "Silent and taciturn, this emissary met the 70 delegates near Kingston, N. Y., the narrative continued. They were conveyed to the foot of Overlook mountain in automobiles. Guards awaited them along the roads. For more than two weeks these guards had been stationed in the vicinity of Port Montgomery, Tannersville, Saugerties and Kingston. Trains arriving at these towns were observed by sentinels. A guard remained behind the delegates to watch the village marshal in Woodstock. Other guards were scattered around the countryside as farm hands. There were guards also in the Grand Central Station at New York."

When the party reached the hotel, military discipline was alleged to have been inaugurated. Delegates were forbidden to write letters or take notes. Twice a day everyone was searched. An "out of bounds" was established and at night approached "guards" could be seen signalling each other with flashlights from the mountain tops that all was well."

Thus, according to the article, was born the Communist Party of America, and "the Central Executive Committee of the new party was chosen from among the prime leaders of the Communist organizations throughout the country." These committee members were alleged to have had places on the central executive committee of the workers party when it later was founded.

Destructive Platform Adopted
"Mass action by the workers; seizure of labor unions and converting them into militant enterprises; boring from within the American Federation of Labor, and in particular, the United Mine Workers of America," was the platform adopted, declares the article. "The extreme radicals are promoting the revolutionary movement, and a dozen intermediate degrees of 'liberal' radicals and 'parlor pinks' are cooperating with them intimately and closely, so that the contact is complete from end to end of the scale," the article charged, referring to organizations alleged to be allied with the Communists. "There is no gap or breaking point."

"A larger volume of pernicious ultra-radical activity is centered around Los Angeles than any other city in the United States with the exception of the metropolitan district of New York. Revolutionary radicalism is profitable around Los Angeles because it is made so by the wealthy 'intellectuals' there who are dabbling in it."

Pernicious and revolutionary propaganda distributed among the coal miners in the strike of 1922 and intended to arouse them to violence and 'mass action' was, in a number of instances, turned out by so-called popular authors and novelists in Los Angeles who are receiving from $600 to $800 a month from the 'intellectual pinks' of that vicinity for doing that sort of thing."

ONLY TWO CROPS SHOWS YEAR GAIN

Prolonged Drouth Injurious to all crops but Sorghum and Barley.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 14.—Every crop in Oklahoma this year was so severely injured by the state's prolonged drouth that only grain sorghums and barley will show a production greater than last year, an analysis of the September federal-state crop report indicates.

The estimated production of corn is given as 39,491,000 bushels, compared with 76,925,000 bushels in 1922. Oats, barley, potatoes, alfalfa, wild and tame hay and fruits suffered irreparably from the more than two months of dry weather which began in June, reports to the federal-state statisticians show. Corn dropped between August 1 and September 1 from a condition of 55 to 41 percent of normal. The average condition for the last 10 years has been 53 percent. Nearly half of the corn was burned before rainfall came. Some fields were totally destroyed. Chinch bugs did considerable damage. More corn was cut for silos than for several years.

Oat threshing has been completed the crop falling below the estimate made last month. A production of 22,523,000 bushels is forecast, the condition at harvest being 55 percent. The northeastern part of the state produced but little more than one-third of an ordinary crop.

Barley, at 66, promises a production of 2,626 bushels, compared with 2,192,000 bushels a year ago.

White potatoes grown in Oklahoma this year will amount to 2,381,000 bushels with a condition of 62, the report states. Sweet potatoes dropped from a condition of 70 to 53 during the month with an estimated production of 1,889,000 bushels.

Grain sorghums averaged 50 percent normal, forecasting 19,721,000 bushels, although August was unfavorable to grain sorghums. Recent rains may increase the September 1 estimate, it was stated.

Alfalfa showed a good condition on the first cutting but was somewhat weedy and was damaged by rains after cutting. Second cutting developed less luxuriant growth, although the harvest was made under more favorable conditions. The third cutting thus far has been almost a total loss because of drouth and web worm damage, the report stated.

Tame hay will reach a production of 935,000 tons and wild hay will probably make 375,000 tons, the latter being in better condition.

The apple crop tumbled from last year's mark of 1,140,000 bushels to a forecast of 999,000 bushels. Peaches dropped from 57 to 43 percent with a forecast production of 1,290,000 bushels against 2,707,000 in 1922. Quality of this year's peaches is "generally very poor."

Grapes died on the vines in August. Pears are 35 percent normal, more than half of the crop having been killed by late frosts in the spring.

BULLETIN OF STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Typhoid Fever

That the people of Oklahoma are taking time by the forelock in the prevention of typhoid fever, is evidenced by the fact that the State Health Department for the past two months has been sending out, all over the state in the neighborhood of 1500 doses of anti-typhoid vaccine per week. At the present time there is little typhoid in the state.

Vaccination time is nearly over and height of the typhoid usually occurs about three weeks after the vaccination ends, it therefore behooves everybody to get immunized by taking the vaccine, which causes little discomfort and is a sure prevent, ive of the disease, as is rapidly becoming more known.

The vaccine is distributed absolutely free by the State Health Department to any doctor for use by inigent people, on application.

Remember typhoid fever is caused by carelessness or the failure of some individual or municipality to observe the rules of common decency or cleanliness.

Be sure your drinking water supply is pure, if not boil it before using. The source of typhoid is the infected human body, that is the actual case or carrier. The typhoid germs leave the body of the patient usually with the intestinal discharge and urine and are carried to other individuals either directly by means of contaminated fingers or indirectly by gaining access to their drinking water or food supply.

When the patient has been recognized as a case of typhoid care is taken to disinfect these dangerous discharges but during the onset of the illness no such precaution is taken and it is usually during this time that others are liable to be affected. Be careful in disposing of the excreta of a person only slightly ill more especially if there is a diarrhea.

The annual toll from typhoid in Oklahoma is still too large, as shown by statistics for the last three years, there being 262 deaths in 1920, 350 in 1921 and 336 in 1922, and only by constant watching and fighting can we hope to confine this dread scourge.

BEAUTY SPOTS OF CANADIAN ROCKIES LURE NOTED ARTISTS

CARL RUNGJUS

BELMORE BROWNE'S STUDIO, BANFF

Noted artists, famous moving picture directors and expert scenic photographers, like thousands of tourists, have succumbed to the lure of the innumerable beauties of Banff and the Canadian Pacific Rockies. Artists in increasing numbers each year spend the summer on the trail in the mountains transferring these beauties to canvas. For seventeen years Carl Rungius, celebrated painter of wild animals in their native haunts, has been a regular visitor to Banff. Now he lives there most of the year and has built his own bungalow and studio. In 1921 Rungius won the $1,000 Altman prize, but, being foreign born, was disqualified, whereupon the National Academy of Design bought the painting for $1,000 and it now hangs in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington.

Belmore Browne, artist, author, explorer and conqueror of Mt. McKinley, 20,300 feet, lives in his own bungalow-studio in Banff the year round except when exhibiting in New York. He and Rungius both study the mountain goats, sheep, deer and bear in their wilderness homes and paint them and their majestic scenic backgrounds. Richard M. Kimbel, landscape painter, has spent two summers in Banff and is painting at Lake O'Hara, near Lake Louise, and last year W. Langdon Kihn lived a month on the Stoney Indian reservation making pastel portraits of the big chiefs, little papposes, squaws and guides. Leonard M. Davis, who paints wonderful landscapes in Alaska and the Canadian Pacific Rockies with a palette knife, has joined the Banff art colony and expects to make his winter home in near-by Calgary.

The lure of Canada's Switzerland drew John Singer Sergeant, R. A., to beautiful Lake O'Hara, in the heart of the Great Divide, and with his easel planted in the white and pink heather of an Alpine meadow 6,600 feet above sea level the world renowned painter devoted ten days to painting this exquisite jade-green lake and the towering mountains in which it is cupped. Charles W. Simpson, R. C. A., of Montreal; Oliver Dennett Grover, of Chicago; Philip R. Goodwin, Edward Potthast and Albert Groll, of New York, and many other painters of note have found inspiration in this scenic wonderland. As for those humbler artists, the tourists with cameras, they are to be seen snapshotting everywhere in the bungalow camps, by the lakeside and along the trails making beautiful pictures which inspire their envious friends to visit Banff and do likewise.

WARNING ISSUED TO GAS PATRONS

Slight Increase in Pressure May Form Generator for Poison Gas.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 14.—A slight increase in gas pressure during the night may transform a burning gas stove in a bedroom into a poison gas generator while members of the household slumber.

That is the warning sent out by the Oklahoma State Board of Health in a bulletin dealing with the record of deaths and numerous partial asphyxiations attributed to gas heaters every winter.

Carbon monoxide gas is considered "the most widespread poisoning in connection with human life and activities," the bulletin declares. Although natural gas contains no carbon monoxide if burned completely, there is likelihood that the deadly gas may be generated in certain types of gas stoves if the flames burn too high.

"A slight increase in gas pressure which usually occurs at night, may easily change a stove operating innocently enough in the daytime, to a carbon monoxide generator during the night," Dr. A. E. Davenport, health commissioner, states.

"Natural gas does not contain carbon monoxide or other readily toxic ingredients," Doctor Davenport continued, "but if burned incompletely, as most frequently happens from a poor or defective air mixer on a stove will readily yield death-dealing amounts of gas."

Competition among manufacturers of gas stoves has resulted in many cheap gas stoves being placed on the market, according to the bulletin. Distributors and retailers are said to remove, in many instances, the warning labels attached by the manufacturer, which labels the product dangerous unless devices for adequate ventilation are set up, the bulletin charges.

"Gas companies have spent thousands of dollars in educational campaigns on the correct use of the gas cooking stove and point out that the burners should be set at least one and preferably one and a half inches below the top of the grid," it is declared.

"Get busy now and investigate the fire place, chimneys, etc., and provide means for actually ventilating gas heating appliances before the time for using them arrives," warns Doctor Davenport. Every winter some deaths and numerous partial asphyxiations constitute the winter's sinister record of gas heaters."

Bull of Pampas Packs Powerful Right as His Claims on Championship

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Luis Angel Firpo has a style all his own in the ring. He admits his faults, but points to his unbroken string of triumphs as proof of his ability to get results in his own way. He is confident that his methods, orthodox as they may be, will enable him to wear the world's heavy-weight crown after his battle with Jack Dempsey at the Polo Grounds tonight.

Firpo has been beset by advisers, well-wishers and the like, both in his pugilistic and business affairs ever since he rose to prominence in this country, but the Argentine giant has listened, then waived most of them aside.

Firpo's first pugilistic efforts here, early in 1922, showed him the rawest of novices but possessed of astonishing strength and a club-like right that offset all other handicaps. His amazing strength and punching power alone were responsible for his early victories over Sailor Mated, Joe McCann and Jack Herman, third raters.

Then, about a year later, he returned to the United States to box Eli Brennan. Firpo won by a knockout in the twelfth round, but only after sustaining terrific punishment. Again his bull-like courage and power pulled him through where his awkward attempts at ring science failed. He was guilty of the most elementary of ring faults, leading with his right. His footwork was of the crudest, and he had no effective defense.

Just before this bout he was put under the tutelage of Jimmy DeForest, veteran trainer, who had conditioned Dempsey for the fight in which he took the title from Jess Willard. Some effects of this tutoring were apparent when Firpo won from Brennan, but the South American was still lacking in many essential points of the game.

Firpo showed vast improvement in all-round form when he knocked out Jack McAuliffe. His footwork and defense were better than in any of his previous performances, while he still retained his irresistible attacking power. Against Willard, a lumbering object, Firpo did not show to remarkable advantage, but he fought his own battle and won decisively.

In all of these fights, however, Firpo, when hardest pressed, fell back upon the rushing, bull-like charges that had invariably carried him to victory. Under the heat of battle he flung most of his newly-acquired science to the winds and fought primitively, both fists flying with sledge-hammer force. His left had become a more potent weapon under DeForest's coaching, but it was the right that brought down his foe.

The Willard fight marked the end of DeForest's tutelage and soon afterward the advent of Horatio Lavalie, gentleman sportsman of Argentina, as general director of Firpo's training activities. While ostensibly DeForest was released because of the handicap under which he worked in not being able to speak Spanish, it was understood that Firpo also irked under the veteran trainer's discipline and preferred to employ his own methods of conditioning. This he could do with Lavalie.

Firpo is a natural fighter. His style is instinctive, rather than the result of rigorous preparation. He learned much from De Forest, but he profited most from experience. He has acquired ring knowledge and generalship quickly. He has proved that he can take the hardest of punishment, weather the hottest of fistic storms, and come back with a demolishing attack of his own.

Against Dempsey Firpo will be vastly improved in form over his earlier performances. He is not as fast, nor has he the champion's repertoire of blows, but he has added a fair measure of skill and scientific ability to his rugged strength. Firpo's left may be more of an asset to him than ever before, as a result of his training but his rights to the body and the head will be his most effective punches, the blows by which he hopes to take the title back to Buenos Aires.

Ku Klux Klan in Mexico

MEXICO CITY.—The Ku Klux Klan has appeared in Mexico, but thus far has confined its activities to visits to newspaper offices and to writing communications to the press. The klansmen wear black robes, emphasizing their arguments with pistol flourishes. Their only entrance into public affairs has been a cleanup campaign conducted at Tacubaya, a suburb.

FELT TIRED, SO TIRED

Indiana Lady Says She Was Run-Down, Suffered With Her Back, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Richmond, Ind.—"I thought I would write a line or so, to say that I owe my good health and strength to Cardui," says a letter from Mrs. Cora Courtney, 31 Railroad Street, this city.

"I was all run-down until my family thought they would lose me," writes Mrs. Courtney. "My husband coaxed me to take Cardui, so, to please him, I did, and will say I do not regret it, for I am able to do all my work and do my shopping."

"I have five children, four in school, my husband and a boarder to do for, and I do all my own work for all of us, and find time to play. We all praise Cardui. Every sick and run-down woman should take this wonderful medicine."

"I suffered with my back; a very weak feeling in my limbs.

"I felt hardly able to drag; just tired—so tired all the time.

"It was an effort for me to do anything, but Cardui helped me so I felt like a different woman."

If you are in a run-down physical condition, suffering as this Indiana lady says she did, give Cardui a fair trial. I should help you.

Take Cardui. NC-14.

BABE RUTH NOW IN LEAGUE LEAD

Hornsby Takes Drop But is Leading in National League Race.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Babe Ruth leads the batters of the American league but he has only a one point margin over Harry Heilmann of Detroit, and for a full day during the week he dropped into second place to Heilmann but was only a fraction of a point behind him. Ruth is hitting .393 and Heilmann .392. These figures are for players who have taken part in 80 games or more and include games of last Wednesday.

Heilmann led the league on Tuesday but on Wednesday, with Detroit idle, Ruth regained supremacy. Babe also continues to show the way in total bases with 324, including 25 doubles and 10 triples as well as his 33 home runs. He also leads in runs scored in the league with 125. Following Heilmann, Cleveland swings into the race with 377; Speaker with 366 and Jamieson with 356. Eddie Collins grabbed off the other honors, leading in both stolen bases and sacrifice hits. He has 35 thefts to his credit and 35 sacrifices. Other leading batters are:

Eddie Collins, Chicago, .354; Ken Williams, St. Louis, .352; Manush, Detroit, .349; J. Harris, Boston, .344; Cobb, Detroit, .341.

A real contest has developed in the National League for the lead in hitting, as Hornsby of St. Louis, the pacesetter, dropped eight points during the week and now leads Wheat of Brooklyn by the small margin of three. Hornsby has an average of .387 while Wheat has .384, according to averages for 80 or more games and including games of last Wednesday. Last week the St. Louis star was a good 20 points ahead of his nearest rival but Wheat picked up nine points while Hornsby was going back. Bottomley of St. Louis ranks third with .369 a drop of four points on the week.

While New York leads the league, that team can only boast of three .300 hitters, but in Frisch they have the leader in the total bases column with 267 and in Young they have the pacesetter in runs scored with 110. Cy Williams of Philadelphia is away out in front in home runs with 33. Carey of Pittsburgh and Grantham of Chicago are tied for base stealing honors, each having 39 to his credit. Melnis of Boston led the sacrifice hitters with 27. Other leading batters are:

Roush, Cincinnati, .353; Fourrier, Brooklyn, .350; Young, New York, .346; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .344; Hargrave, Cincinnati, .344; Frisch, New York, .341; Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .333.

Among the regular National league pitchers, Luque of Cincinnati is leading with 22 wins and 6 defeats, while Vance of Brooklyn leads in strike out with 152. Ryan of New York ranks second in wins and losses with 12 victories and 4 defeats and Adams of Pittsburgh is third with 13 wins and 5 defeats. Alexander of Chicago is fourth with 19 victories and 8 defeats.

East, of Minneapolis, leads the hitters in the American association but is only one point ahead of Larmann of Toledo. While East dropped a single point during the week and now has an average of .395 and Lamar picked up 4 points for an average of .394, yet East banged his way into the lead in total bases with 322 and tied up with Bunney Brief in the lead for home run honors with 27. The averages include players who have participated in 80 or more games and include games of last Wednesday.

Terry of Columbus dropped nine points during the week but continues in third position with .331. Combs of Louisville is fourth with .377 and Brief of Kansas City is fifth with .366. The latter leads in runs scored with 134, is second in total bases with 321 but lost undisputed position of home run honors when he failed to connect with any during the week, while East was making four of them.

Cooney, of Milwaukee, is out in front of the base stealers with 42 but Murphy of Columbus is giving him a hard run, the latter having 40 to his credit. In sacrifice hits Boone of St. Paul and Sicking of Indianapolis are tied with 36 and Covington of Louisville is third with 34. Other leading batters are:

Good, Kansas City, .363; J. Smith, Toledo, .355; Griffin, Milwaukee, .354; Brown, Indianapolis, .354; Brannan, Kansas City, .353.

Huhn, of Mobile tops the batters of the Southern Association with a mark of .355, eleven points ahead of Bernsen of Nashville, who has .344, according to averages of players who have taken part in 80 or more games and which include games of last Wednesday. Cuyler and R. Williams, both of Mobile are tied for third place with .331 while Cuyler and Hawks, both of Nashville, are as close as they can get without overtaking the Mobile duo, with .330 each.

Cuyler leads in total bases with 261 which includes 32 doubles, 15 triples and 8 home runs. Cuyler also leads in stolen bases with 62 to his credit, while Guyon of Atlanta is topping the sacrifice hitters with 38. D. Williams of Mobile is leading in runs scored with 113. Other

HUNTERS IN NOVA SCOTIA USE THE CANOE AND AUTOMOBILE WHEN THEY ARE SEEKING THE TRAIL OF THE LORDLY MOOSE

Nova Scotia is a country of lakes and streams, offering many ideal canoe trips, and the interior is a great moose pasture. Ideal, too, is the moose hunting because both the canoe and automobile are used by hunters and guides, thus saving many miles of weary hiking through the wilderness. On the Liverpool chain of lakes reached from South Milford via Annapolis Royal or Digby, and on Lake Kedegamakooke, Lake Rossignol, Lake Munro, Lake and the Liverpool River expert Indian and guide use the canoes for long distances and even call the moose to the shore with their birch bark horns. When some distant point is reached from "Del" Thomas' South Milford camp, canoes, guides, hunters and duffle are loaded upon a big motor truck for the journey. South Milford is 15 miles from

Although large numbers of moose are shot each year, many with magnificent "spreads," the annual increase is said to equal the kill. Such guides as Louis Harlow, half-breed Micmac and Sam Glode, full-blooded Indian, are expert moose callers and stalkers and rarely disappoint the hunter. The cleverness with which they stimulate the calls of the cow moose with a simple roll of birch bark fashioned into a horn, is sure to fool the wisest old bull in the wilderness. When the calling season is past, the moose no longer comes to the hunter and the hunter must go to him. Neither canoe, nor automobile figures much in this phase of moose hunting except that one, or both, may help the hunter near the place where the quarry is supposed to be and carry him home when the hunt is over.

D. Williams, Mobile, .325; S. Clarke, Birmingham, .325; Leveaux, Little Rock-Nashville, .322; Karr, Atlanta, .320

Horan of Des Moines, held his lead to batting honors in the Western League during the week with an average of .404, a gain of 9 points and it was only his ability to build up this gain that kept him in the lead, for Yde, Oklahoma City, added 16 points to his average and finished the week 4 points behind the leader, with .400. Bauman, Tulsa, dropped into third position with .387, a loss of 3 points during the week. The averages include games of last Wednesday and are for players who have taken part in 70 games or more.

Blakesley of Wichita, leads in runs scored with 125, and in total bases with 369, which include 46 triples, 13 doubles and 30 home runs. C. McDowell of Wichita leads in home runs with 32.

L. Smith, Wichita, is out in front in base stealing with 48 thefts while three men are tied for sacrifice hitting honors with 31. They are Lamb, Tulsa; Corriden, Des Moines; McPhree, Denver. Other leading batters are: Palmer, Sioux City, .365; Blakesley, Wichita, .356; Luders, Oklahoma City, .356; Leveaux, Tulsa, .355; Davis, Tulsa, .352; McLarry, Des Moines, .350; C. McDowell, Wichita, .349.

MAULBETSCH SENDS IN CALL FOR AGGIE SQUAD

(By the Associated Press)
STILLWATER, Okla., Sept. 13.—Coach Johnny Maulbetsch, who recently returned from his vacation in Michigan has posted his notice to football men calling them to the white-griddled field and distributed the first uniforms to the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College football squad.

Official practice started Monday and the 1923 season was opened without formalities or other recognition than that of men in padded uniforms appearing on the pigskin grounds. Registration of students began one day after the first football practice. Morning and afternoon football practice sessions marked the first three days of the week. Classes began today, however, and the football men limited their work to afternoon practice.

Maulbetsch faces the responsibility of building his Aggie line with only two veterans as a nucleus. Six of the 1922 football men were graduated, five of them linemen, the coach said. The returning regulars are Ed Morrison of Wetumka, a guard, and L. Bauman of Lindsay, a tackle.

Twelve of the nineteen Aggies who won an "O" last year will be available, according to the coach. Seven of the twelve are backfield players, headed by Nate Hasbrook of Marshall, captain-elect. The returning linemen, in addition to Morrison and Bauman, were alternates who played in enough games to win a letter.

Coach Maulbetsch has a score of runners up of last season and at least three players of former years have entered the college. There are also quite a large number of sophomores who played on last year's freshman team.

Bugs from Europe thrive in this country because of our extensive farming, but those taken from the United States to the old country seldom live under the more intensive field practices followed there.

OFFICIALS TO SPREAD ASSOCIATION MESSAGE

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—How the trade association can make a market analysis, promote the use of members' products by cooperative advertising, bring about standardization in an industry, and help elevate the standards of retail merchandizing, are some of the subjects on the program of the convention of the American Trade Association Executives, to be held here October 24-26.

The functions of trade associations and their place in the economic fabric of the country will be described and analyzed, according to an announcement by O. B. Towne, secretary-treasurer. Prominent traders, men will lead in the principal discussions.

"The establishment of business standards, improvement of methods of production and distribution, the utilization of a wider variety of raw materials, the general elimination of waste, and the development of a higher code of business ethics are some of the achievements of trade associations," Mr. Towne said. "In gathering statistics of production, consumption, stocks and prices, where these have been made available to the entire public, we also have contributed much to the stability of business and the diminution of speculation."

INDIAN DAY SET FOR OBSERVANCE OVER OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 13.—Sunday, September 30, this year will be "Indian Day" throughout Oklahoma. A proclamation designating it as such and calling upon citizens "of whatever race or nationality to join together in giving the proper recognition to this occasion" has been issued by Gov. J. C. Walton.

In Oklahoma the Indian population "vastly exceeds that of any other state in the Union" the proclamation says. Designation of Indian day is made because "the Indian portion of our citizenship has shown itself so worthy in the contributions in the growth and development of our state, especially through the patriotism and loyalty it has shown and the part it has played in the creation of its commonwealth."

Clergymen and officials of civic and religious organizations are asked, in the proclamation, "to give proper observance to this day to the end that the proper respect and consideration may be shown for those to whom we owe so much." The state of Oklahoma now embraces, according to the proclamation, the areas originally set aside by the federal government as a home for the Indian wards of the nation.

The Marriage
a la Mode

By CLARA DELAFIELD

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

"WELL, between you and me, Effie, I'll admit it's not exactly what you might call an elevating business," admitted Horace Baynes. "But a fellow's got to live. However, I'll be glad to be out of it."

"So'll I be, Horace," said Effie Reynolds heartily.

They were looking over the back files of the periodical "Marriage," a monthly which Horace published in connection with his matrimonial bureau. There was no doubt the business was played out. Things had changed since the war. The circulation had gone softly but steadily down, until it touched the hundreds where it had been many thousands. Fewer and fewer answers came to the "Marry if lonely" advertisement in its columns.

Dishonest? Well, call it tricks of the trade. Two or three times Horace, assisted by the valiant Effie, really had introduced a victim to the wealthy old maid who wanted a partner, and pocketed the commission—once nine hundred dollars. For the most part, of course, the money came in from advertisements, circulation and registration charges.

Effie had been Horace's right-hand woman almost since the beginning. Effie was the "handsome, tall girl with a fortune in her own right, seeks a loving husband," to callers. Effie had been the "youthful widow, lonely, ten thousand dollars saved, wishes to get married again." Effie had been the "helpless, unhappy at home, wishes meet good-looking young gentleman who appreciates a loving heart more than riches."

Horace, for his part, had been, "good-looking, clean-cut young American, wishes to find suitable wife." Horace had been, "son of a millionaire, at present disinherited, but with hopes, wishes to meet healthy, attractive young woman. Strictly confidential. No triflers."

Yes, they had both played so many parts. Of course, very few persons had the nerve to call at the office in pursuit of a spouse. Practically all the business was carried on by correspondence. But in this correspondence they were both in their element.

Ah, how many love-letters had been penned in that dingy little back office! There were two forms, a male and a female form. Each of these was subdivided into six sections.

The first began: "My dear Mr. (or Miss) Blank: In answer to your communication . . ."

The second began: "Dear Dorothy (or Henry), as I am taking the liberty of calling you: Your letter appealed to me very much, because . . ."

The third began: "My dear husband (or wife) to be: How happy I am to think . . ."

The fourth began: "My dearest Dorothy (or Henry): 'Only to think that . . ."

"The fifth began: 'My darling: Yes, I love you, though we have not yet met . . ."

The sixth began: "Dearest Beloved: Since your beautiful letter came . . ."

There was also a seventh form. It began: "Dear Sir (or Madam). You have yet to learn that my affections are not to be trifled with. I gave you all the love of my heart . . ."

This letter, in the case when the correspondent was a gentleman, hinted at breach of promise proceedings.

Effie, studying these forms, remembered so many tender love episodes (by correspondence). The thought that all these were forever behind her, filled her with grief. Tears filled her eyes and trickled down her cheeks.

Horace, for his part, was hardly less moved. So many, many ladies had poured out their hearts to him in letters, carefully filed away. To think that all this romance of the past was over! He lifted his haggard eyes to Effie, and then discovered that she was weeping.

"Effie!"

"H-Horace!"

"It breaks my heart to think that this time next month I shall be holding down a respectable job in the stationery business (for such was Horace's intent)."

"Oh, Horace, I—I can't b-bear it, to think I've had so many b-beautiful b-beaux, and I'll never have any more."

"Effie."

"What, Horace?"

"Effie, darling, we—we'll just have to carry on a private love affair of our own. Will you marry me, Effie?"

"Oh, I suppose I—I'll have to, H-Horace," murmured Effie, sinking her head on his shoulder, while the tears soaked, unrestrained, into the files.

Future Streets in Layers.

Problems of traffic in New York city are so increasingly difficult, says Arnold Brunner, former president of the New York Architectural League, that the day is coming of three-level traffic. The underground level will continue to be used for subways, tubes and tunnels. The street level will be used for trucks and other heavy traffic. Above the street there will be roads for light motors and pedestrians. "This will necessarily change our architecture. The lower floors of the building will be given over to vast archways through which the heavy traffic will rove, and the pedestrians' thoroughfare will be constructed on the level with the second or third story of the buildings."

Some wealthy families in Switzerland have cheeses kept over a century.

JORGING GORETON'S
BACKERS TO UNITE
ON HIS SUCCESSOR

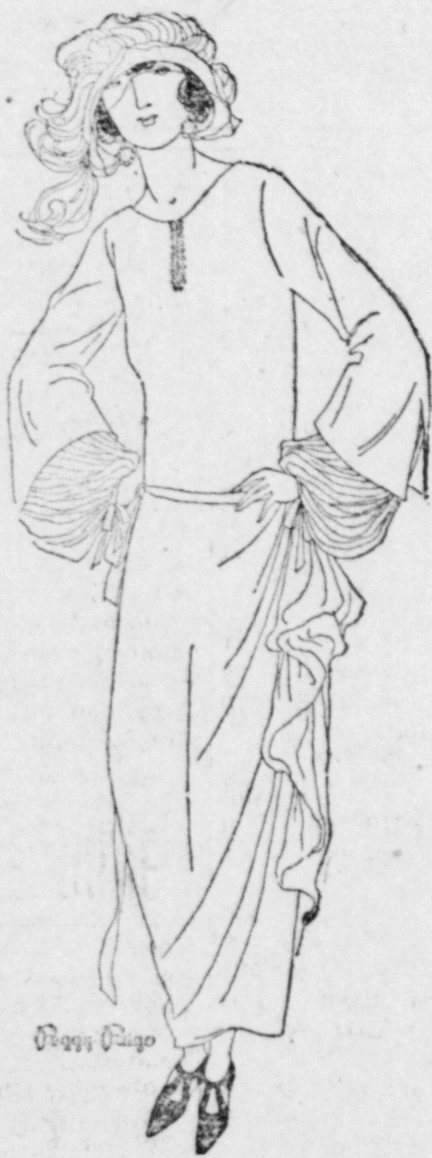

Gen. Jose Castro.

Gen. Jose Castro, governor of the state of Durango, has sent a circular letter to all state governors throughout Mexico as well as prominent supporters of the revolution of 1920 which made Obregon president, urging them to choose one candidate for the presidency to prevent the overthrowing of the present regime. The election is over a year off.

SAID CAN'T BE DONE

"My experience with doctors and medicines caused me to lose faith in both, and when a friend told me that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy would cure my stomach trouble, I told him 'it can't be done.' However, he finally persuaded me to try it and to my surprise it did. All symptoms of acute indigestion and gas having disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

BARTHELMESS HAS SEA
CLASSIC IN "FURY"—
DOROTHY GISH SUPPORTS

A classic of the sea. That, briefly sums up Richard Barthelmess' magnificent production, "Fury," the moving masterpiece on the screen at the McSwain theatre, where it opens today.

"Tol'able David" has been deservedly called a classic of the Virginia hill, but even that drama has been eclipsed by the young star's latest effort.

"Fury" is a gem of the bounding main by Edmund Goulding and none of its tang is lost on the screen. Barthelmess is seen as "Boy" Leyton, second mate of the "Lady Spray," a picturesque fourmasted schooner captained by his father, who is known among the men as "Dog" Leyton.

The boy is submissive to the bullying by his father, who thinks the lad has too much "woman" in him. He cringes before him, yet loves him.

The worm turns, however, when his father learns of "Boy's" plans to elope with Minnie, a little Limehouse slave, and assaults the girl's character. "Boy," forgetting filial regard, jumps to the attack and his father, happy in the belief that his son has no yellow streak, welcomes the assault. The emotion brings on a heart attack and the father tells the story of his wife and "Boy's" mother, who had deserted them both for another man.

"Boy" grants is father's dying request and swears before he marries to avenge his mother who has been cruelly wronged by the other man.

And this vow takes the now thoroughly changed "Boy" to Glasgow, where he finds his forlorn little mother, then back to sea, where a terrific denouement is staged. Of course the story ends happily and of course the plans for the little wedding which were so cruelly interrupted are carried out. But, of course, not in the usual way.

Barthelmess is splendidly supported by Dorothy Gish, who makes a bewitching Minnie; Tyrone Power as Captain Leyton; Pat Hartigan, Barry Macollum and Jessie Arnold. The photographic effects are a revelation, the sea "shots" far surpassing anything of the kind ever attempted before. Henry King directed. Which is just another reason why "Fury" is a classic.

Manganese Found in Africa.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON.—A huge belt of manganese, about 20 feet wide and four miles long, has been found at Hekpoort, near the West Rand, in South Africa.

The belt is already being exploited by two farmers who own part of the land through which it runs. It is said to be of almost pure manganese, and is one of the most important mineral finds recorded in the Dark Continent.
